

The Religious Studies team at Biddulph High School wants all students to explore and understand religion and worldviews in the past and present, in different communities, taking into account cultural and geopolitical contexts, to consider change and dissent in religion and worldviews and the multiple dimensions of belief, belonging, culture and identity. All students are unique and we want students to thrive in their Religious Studies lessons regardless of their starting point. We want to provide an excellent education in a safe supportive learning environment, one where students are valued and make positive contributions to the school community, and where students go on to become responsible, independent members of society. We also want our students to become independent students, who are critical in their thinking, informed in their choices and confident in their ability to succeed in the modern world, who are respectful and tolerant, driven and confident and who strive for the best.
