

BIDDULPH
HIGH SCHOOL

"Working together to achieve our personal best"

History Department

Mrs Biddle, Miss Harkin
Mrs N Ireland

Year 9 will build on the skills and content knowledge they acquired in their middle school

The rise of the dictators: Mussolini, Stalin and Hitler

A Level History is split into two topics; Stuart Britain and Aspects of International Tension. Each unit will be taught over Year 12 and 13.

The department has a wide range of resources to help you with your studies

As part of your A Level you are encouraged to read around your topics: this will give you a better understanding ready for the exams

To be able to engage in historical analysis and interpretation, you should be able to identify the author or source of a piece of evidence and assess its credibility

A level coursework will make up 20% of your overall grade and be chance to explore historians perspectives on issues on 19th Century Britain

UCAS

Visit universities and make your choices

You will have two exams at the end of Year 13. Revise throughout the 2 year course

A+

History is one of the broadest subjects you can study at university. The various strands of the subject include economic, cultural, social and political history as well as the history of ideas. All of these topics can be studied at local, national or international levels.

In the past, history graduates have forged careers in academia, research, civil service, politics, journalism, consultancy, banking, business, PR, marketing, retail, accountancy and more.

The causes, nature and conclusion of World War One

Welcome

Treatment of minority groups: including the Holocaust

Conflict and Tension in the 20th Century

The making of modern Britain, 1960s, 1970s, 1980s

The People's Health c.1000-Present Day
(How and why have different factors been more important than others for individual medical developments?)

Why did surgery improve throughout history?

What is the significance of key individuals or events in the history of medical development?

Elizabeth I: 1568-1603

What were the internal and external threats that Elizabeth faced?

Year 10 mocks will help you make your own targets and track progress

Regular knowledge tests and recapping past topics will help you learn all your key dates

Year 11

America 1920-73

What was life like in 1920s America? What was life like in the Great Depression?

History trains transferable skills which can lead to the most varied career paths

Year 13

Why was it difficult to resolve Cold War tensions?

The Cold War 1945-72

History has been integrally related to political and economic decision-making for centuries.

Refine and perfect your revision techniques ready for your exams

To be successful at A Level you need to develop good independent study skills

Post 18